

Your Life - Your Journey

It was great to see a life story piece in a different medium. The lyrics are brilliant and really tell the child's story wonderfully. I thought the child's rapping skills were amazing and such an achievement to be able to do this. Great work!

Loved the different take with the rap. Interesting to hear the child speak about their different feelings, the positives and less so – especially wondering about birth siblings which made me feel sad and queried the role we could have in helping with this

This was a fantastic rap/ song, I loved that the child used a completely different medium to share their life journey through words and writing the lyrics like the Fresh Prince of Bel-Air was such a fun idea. I love the line that they grew in their hearts!!! I also like that this story has a little bit of the past, a little bit of the present and thinking about the future.... What a super job!
